CTE AND THE JUSTICE-INVOLVED

1

PELL GRANT FOR PRISONS

As of July 1, 2023, the Pell Grant is now available to all qualified incarcerated people to further pursue post-secondary education for jobs with livable wages.

CHILDREN OF INCARCERATED PARENTS

Educators are critical partners in making a difference in the lives of children of incarcerated parents. Estimates indicate that as many as 2.7 million children have a parent behind bars.

3

CTE AND RECIDIVISM

The Prison Education Research Project (PERF) found that CTE in prison lowered post-release recidivism rates and parole revocations while producing better post release employment patterns.

4

CTE AND DISCIPLINE IN PRISON

CTE Participants had better disciplinary records in prison compared to non participants.

Pre-Apprenticeship Programs

Re-entry

Our pre-apprenticeship programs can be offered to Justice-involved individuals pre-release, before they transition back into society

Youth Build

Provides the foundation for young people to choose multiple career pathways to:

- Enroll in college
- Begin employment
- Combination of both

Small Business

Help small businesses gain access to a talent pipeline of entry-level workers to address talent shortages in the workplace.

CTE SUCCESS

Employer Partner

Why does quality training and programs matter, Why does CTECS program matter? You have strong solid working relationships with not only small businesses but large companies as well. Educate worksites on the advantages, advantages that matter. Make sure the WRS are solid

Student Employment Success

It is equally important to equip our students with all the right tools for success. Jobs turns into careers with confident students , happy employers and successful business. Employees stay on site, employers have great performance results and positive bottom line.
